

A SONG WRITTEN FOR SHANELLE

My Home

Anniversary

1:36

4:42

We found each other on Match, never knowing where that first hello would lead,
Then Halloween came around and you gave me a memory I still love to keep.
You showed up dressed like Mr. T, with gold chains shining everywhere,
And somehow that unforgettable first date became the start of everything we share.

Thirteen years later, you can still make me laugh like you did back then,
Through ordinary nights and changing seasons, you're still my closest friend.
From the Bears and Bulls to the Cubs, we cheer and complain side by side,
And fantasy football gets competitive, but I wouldn't want another teammate in my life.

*Shanelle, you are my home, the steady place my heart belongs,
The love behind our family, the strength that keeps us moving on.
Everything I work for is for you and our daughters too,
And every version of the man I want to be begins with loving you.*

We've packed our lives and moved three times because my career changed our road,
And every time you stood beside me, helping carry more than your share of the load.
You've been my biggest supporter, believing in me when the pressure felt strong,
But you've loved me enough to tell me when I needed to admit that I was wrong.

You remind me I can be a better husband and a better father every day,
Not by asking me to be perfect, but by helping me find a better way.
You're the greatest mother to our girls, teaching kindness through what you do,
Teaching them to stand for what is right and chase every dream they choose.

*Shanelle, you are my home, the steady place my heart belongs,
The love behind our family, the strength that keeps us moving on.
Everything I work for is for you and our daughters too,
And every version of the man I want to be begins with loving you.*

I love our dinners together, our family gathered around the table,
The nights we binge our favorite shows until staying awake feels impossible.
I love the fall, the holidays, and every tradition we've made our own, Because wherever life has taken us, being together has always felt like home.

*Shanelle, you are my home, and I'll never take your love for granted,
You believed in the man inside me before I fully understood what you saw in him.
Everything I do is to protect this life and take care of our family too,
And I'll keep becoming the man you believe I can be, because I love you.*

*After thirteen years, I'd still choose this life with you every time,
My greatest love, my family, my home — and I'm so grateful you are mine.*

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY

ORIGINAL EDITION • NO. 21345