

A SONG WRITTEN FOR MARIE

Marie – Our Rock, Our Refuge

Birthday

1:45

5:08

Back in two thousand three, our paths crossed at the BBC, I stepped into the job you left, and friendship came so naturally.
From that day on, through changing years, our bond just grew,
Two mothers raising children close in age, sharing what life put us through.
Lauren and Holly filled your world with pride from the very start,
You stood beside them through their Taekwondo days with all your heart.
With Gary by your side, you built a strong and loving home,
A family held together by a love that made no one feel alone.

*Marie, you're our rock, our refuge when the road gets hard,
The steady hand, the open door, the calm within our hearts.
You give your love so freely, expecting nothing in return,
And every life you touch is brighter for the kindness that you've shown.*

Peggy and Michael meant the world to you, your roots and guiding light,
And when your mum Peggy needed you, you stayed there by her side.
Through every difficult day after the accident changed her way,
You cared for her with devotion and gave her love until her final day.
With Kevin and Michael, you grew up knowing family comes first,
And that same strength became the gift you carried through the worst.
When my boys lost their father, you helped me find my feet again,
You stood beside us quietly, not just as family, but as a faithful friend.

*Marie, you're our rock, our refuge when the road gets hard,
The steady hand, the open door, the calm within our hearts.
You give your love so freely, expecting nothing in return,
And every life you touch is brighter for the kindness that you've shown.*

Your calmness brings us comfort when the world becomes too loud,
Your loyalty has carried us through days both dark and proud.
For family and for friends, your heart is always open wide,
And so many of us are stronger simply knowing you're beside us.

*Marie, you're our rock, our refuge, and today we celebrate you,
And the love that you have given will forever shine through.
May all the kindness you have given find its way back home somehow,
With love and gratitude, we wish you every happiness right now.*

*Happy birthday to a friend whose love has helped us all stay strong,
Our lives are richer because you've been beside us all along.*

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY

ORIGINAL EDITION • NO. 21561