

A SONG WRITTEN FOR RAVEN

Heartbeat of Hope

Just because

1:05

3:12

We met on Facebook Dating one night
And heat ran wild beneath the screen
That same night, everything felt right
You were the finest sight I'd seen
Your little crazy made me smile
You drove so far for just a while

*Raven, you're the beat that keeps my heart alive
You turn bad days good, good days electrified
Your smile brings peace I never knew
Let love lead you through*

We broke up for a few months in pain
You gave your heart to someone else
That hurt still falls on you like rain
Now fear can make you guard yourself
You're scared and push me far away
While I keep trying to work things through
I'll show you gently, day by day
That loving me is safe for you

*Raven, you're the beat that keeps my heart alive
You turn bad days good, good days electrified
Your smile brings peace I never knew
Let love lead you through*

I'll meet your fear with open hands
And let you take the time you need
No pressure, just a place to land
With love in every word and deed

*Raven, you're the beat that keeps my heart alive
You turn bad days good, good days electrified
Your smile brings peace I never knew
Let love lead you through*

*Your smile still turns my dark to gold
My open hands are yours to hold*
