

A SONG WRITTEN FOR BREEANNA

Every Second With You

Just because

1:27

4:15

I still remember that day when we met online,
I never thought a simple message would change my life.
When you answered me, I could hardly believe it was true,
Like a dream I was living, and that dream was you.
From your green eyes that shine to your beautiful smile,
You made every moment feel completely worthwhile.
You are the woman who loves me just as I am,
The most caring wife, the strongest heart, my greatest chance.

*Breeanna, I want every second of my life with you,
Through every season, every storm, everything we go through.
You are my love, my home, the one who always understands,
Forever I will choose you and keep holding your hand.*

We have walked through roads that were never always easy,
Through moments that tested us and brought us to our knees.
Through lupus, through addiction, through days when
money was gone,
We stayed together and somehow we kept moving on.
There were times when life tried to break what we had built,
Times filled with pain, mistakes, and moments of guilt.
But your love never disappeared, you stayed by my side,
And together we survived every difficult tide.

*Breeanna, I want every second of my life with you,
Through every season, every storm, everything we go through.
You are my love, my home, the one who always understands,
Forever I will choose you and keep holding your hand.*

You gave me a love that never asked me to be perfect,
You saw my flaws and still believed I was worth it.
No matter how many years are waiting ahead,
I want to love you in every moment we get.

*Breeanna, you are the miracle I never saw coming,
The love that keeps my heart forever running.
My beautiful wife, my partner, my family, my truth,
Every second I have left, I want to spend loving you.*

*With our three boys, you created the life I dreamed of,
And every day with you reminds me what real love is.*
