

A SONG WRITTEN FOR CANDY

Eternal Vows

Birthday

1:11

3:30

On our wedding day, we made our vow
No one could come between us then or now
We put each other first, come what may
And asked the Lord to guide us on our way
Your laughter makes the longest shadows bright
We love sports, and every day takes flight

*Candy, the Lord sees how our hearts stay true
Through every trial, I come back to you
If love comes back, then open up the door
Then hold it, love it forevermore*

We stood apart to make the others glad
Yet both our hearts held tight to what we had
You bent the knee, the Lord was there
For you, for me, for all that we would share
You see the sacrifices I have made
And make me feel more loved along the way
We laugh, then take the time we need alone
Yet trust has always led our hearts back home

*Candy, the Lord sees how our hearts stay true
Through every trial, I come back to you
If love comes back, then open up the door
Then hold it, love it forevermore*

On your birthday, I thank God for you
For all the love and faith that pulled me through
This sacrament has made us strong and free
With the Lord, you'll always be home to me

*Candy, the Lord sees how our hearts stay true
Through every trial, I come back to you
If love comes back, then open up the door
Then hold it, love it forevermore*

*Still hand in hand, we keep our vow in sight
Still side by side, we turn the dark to light*
