A SONG WRITTEN FOR TASHA

Endless Pride

Birthday

From your bedroom, you called for tea
And bacon butties were your plea
Grandad called, “No!” from down below
Then up the stairs, he’d always go
His grumbles could not hide the pride
He held for you so deep inside

> Tasha, at forty, know this true
> You’ve been my daughter from the start
> I am endlessly proud of you
> You’ll always be within my heart

You were once so quiet, soft and shy
Then Thailand opened up the sky
You found your confidence and voice
And learned to trust in every choice
Three wonderful boys look up to you
You give them patience, love, and care
With Andy standing by your side
You’ve built a family full of pride

> Tasha, at forty, know this true
> You’ve been my daughter from the start
> I am endlessly proud of you
> You’ll always be within my heart

Though Grandad’s gone, his love lives on
In every smile when days feel long
May forty bring more laughter too
And bright adventures just for you

> Tasha, at forty, know this true
> You’ve been my daughter from the start
> I am endlessly proud of you
> You’ll always be within my heart

No matter miles, I hold you near
My beautiful girl, forever dear
