

A SONG WRITTEN FOR TRISHA

Colors of Peace

Just because

1:13

3:35

On quiet nights, you painted by soft light
We talked of trips beneath the fading sky
Your colors made the silent room feel bright
I learned your past as hours drifted by
You lift the ones who lose their way
Yet leave your heart to wait from day to day

*Trisha, may peace and joy come through
I've always cared more than you knew
Let all the old dark shadows fade away
I cared more than you knew each day*

There were days when fear was in the air
You bore the physical abuse no heart should bear
Too many took the kindness you would show
And called it friendship, though they let you go
Still, every step can lead you toward the dawn
Till yesterday's dark weight is gone
I hope you find the peace that lets you breathe
And leave your past behind, and live with ease

*Trisha, may peace and joy come through
I've always cared more than you knew
Let all the old dark shadows fade away
I cared more than you knew each day*

Just because, I wanted you to hear
My care will stay beside you, always near
May gentler days replace the hurt with grace
And bring a quiet smile back to your face

*Trisha, may peace and joy come through
I've always cared more than you knew
Let all the old dark shadows fade away
I cared more than you knew each day*

*May every painted color lead you home
May peace be yours wherever you may roam*

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY

ORIGINAL EDITION • NO. 22248