

A SONG WRITTEN FOR JO

Every Second, Every Day

Just because

1:07

3:17

At work, we found a quiet spark
Two hearts just leaving harder days
One coffee lit up through the dark
And we both felt it right away
We laugh until the room turns bright
We stand as one through every night

*Jo, you're the thought in each second I live
You ask for nothing, still you give
My life would not have found this way
Every second, every day*

For six years, I travelled every week
Four hundred miles, the round-trip way
To hear the laughter when we'd speak
To be together on that day
You ask for nothing, give your all
You're there whenever others call
Your laughter puts the dark to flight
Your loving heart makes things feel right

*Jo, you're the thought in each second I live
You ask for nothing, still you give
My life would not have found this way
Every second, every day*

No road can make my thoughts depart
You're in each breath, both night and day
I'll keep you close within my heart
Whatever comes, we'll find our way

*Jo, you're the thought in each second I live
You ask for nothing, still you give
My life would not have found this way
Every second, every day*

*One coffee changed the world I knew
And every road still leads to you*
