

A SONG WRITTEN FOR APRIL

Forever in Your Arms

Just because

1:22

4:00

The moment you walked out your mom and dad's front door
I knew I'd found forever, nothing more
Your wavy hair fell free around your face
Not tucked behind your ears, it found its place
Your smile made my heart flutter so high
You make me happiest when you're nearby

*April, I'm sorry for the fear I gave
For all the stress you had to brave
When I hold you, my worries flee
Because you mean so much to me*

Each day I see your beautiful face
And feel my heart return to its own place
You always put the others first somehow
I see your tender kindness even now
Through our divorce, we've known a harder road
But together, we can lift that load
Each day without you leaves a deeper hole
I miss the way you settle all my soul

*April, I'm sorry for the fear I gave
For all the stress you had to brave
When I hold you, my worries flee
Because you mean so much to me*

The first time I saw you, I knew my place
You were my soulmate, written on your face
When something funny gets you tickled somehow
I love the joy I see in you right now
I know I hurt the heart I hold so dear
And left you carrying stress and fear
But every day, I'll show you what is true
My whole heart keeps on coming back to you

Eighteen years ago you gave me your hand to lead and to trust

And be your best friend

If I could take all those years back, I wouldn't burn my bridge

And do it all right, like you trusted me to
And you can't piece your broken heart back together Cason and Cash are just two more reasons to fight for this

Because I would choose you in a hundred more lifetimes

*April, I'm sorry for the fear I gave
For all the stress you had to brave
When I hold you, my worries flee
Because you mean so much to me*

*Your wavy hair falls softly by my side
I hold you close; my worries slip aside*

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY

ORIGINAL EDITION • NO. 22467