

A SONG WRITTEN FOR NENG

Friends Forever, Loud and Clear

Just because

1:28

4:19

Back in 2001, plates were in your hands
You were so nervous serving people's food
You tried to serve each person as you planned
Your funny smile had changed my quiet mood
Then we played in snow, the world turned white
I won't forget the fun, so pure and bright

*Neng, TRTS, these words live in my heart
Across the miles, I know your heart is near
Though moving home once pulled our paths apart
TRTS, friends forever, loud and clear*

It was so hard to see you moving home
I watched the space between us slowly grow
Then we met again, no longer alone
And all the happiness began to show
Your caring heart is something I hold dear
Your happy spirit makes the whole day clear
Your fun still brings a smile when days are gray
Your laughter sends the clouds so far away

*Neng, TRTS, these words live in my heart
Across the miles, I know your heart is near
Though moving home once pulled our paths apart
TRTS, friends forever, loud and clear*

No special day, I needed you to know
Your friendship makes the quiet moments glow
May happy days keep opening in view
And may the snow bring back its joy to you

*Neng, TRTS, these words live in my heart
Across the miles, I know your heart is near
Though moving home once pulled our paths apart
TRTS, friends forever, loud and clear*

*One laugh can turn the distance into light
Like snow that glows beneath the open night*
