

Guiding Light

1:28

4:20

In a library where laughter danced,
Two souls met beneath the light,
She managed the chaos, not a chance,
Her smile made the shadows bright.

With books around like silent friends,
He found a spark in her gentle grace,
Though darkness whispered,
 love transcends,
In that vibrant, cozy place.

*Joy, I live for your love,
You lift me high, like stars above,
Through every storm and sunny day,
You shine, my guiding light, my way.*

Nineteen years and vows in Devon,
At The Lamb Inn, our hearts took flight,
With folk songs blessing love's invention,
In a cozy pub, we found our night.

From Spain's flamenco to Snowdon's peaks,
You cheer me on, my sweetest muse,
Through every concert, every week,
Your laughter shines, I cannot lose.

*Joy, I live for your love,
You lift me high, like stars above,
Through every storm and sunny day,
You shine, my guiding light, my way.*

In the shadows of loss, we found our strength,
With each other's hands, we walked the length,
Though time has changed, our bond
 stays true,
Forever grateful, my heart beats for you.

*Joy, I live for your love,
You lift me high, like stars above,
Through every storm and sunny day,
You shine, my guiding light, my way.*

*In every moment, in all we do,
I live for your love, always with you.*

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY

ORIGINAL EDITION • NO. 22893