

A SONG WRITTEN FOR PAULA

Eternal Hearts Uniting

Anniversary

1:12

3:33

In two thousand two, you answered my ad
After work, your voice lit up my night
Six months, those calls made my whole world glad
Each word drew us closer, soft and bright
At Easter in Wapping, face to face
I was more nervous, held by your grace

*Paula, you're my woman, I'm your man
Your caring hands still help me stand
Your smile can turn the dark to light
Our hearts forever unite*

We shared a pizza, then drinks at my flat
Your smile lit the room where we sat
Then mixed dementia came, and cancer returned
And every hope felt overturned
Out from hospital, my heart went still
You gave me CPR, fierce and true
Now you're my carer, strong of will I mourn the time it takes from you

*Paula, you're my woman, I'm your man
Your caring hands still help me stand
Your smile can turn the dark to light
Our hearts forever unite*

On this anniversary, I pray
Good health will walk with you each day
When I am gone, live life in full
And let your laughter fill your soul

*Paula, you're my woman, I'm your man
Your caring hands still help me stand
Your smile can turn the dark to light
Our hearts forever unite*

Your smile is the light I carry through My heart comes home again to you
