

A SONG WRITTEN FOR ROBIN

Brighter Place

Tribute

1:07

3:17

At Paparazzi, online, we met
We claimed the same things, I won't forget
Your country laughter filled the air
Your beautiful smile was always there
From there, our friendship found its way
And makes my whole world feel okay

*Robin, you make my world a brighter place
Your laughter brings a little hope to stay
Your voice can calm the fear I sometimes face
We've got each other's backs, always*

In twenty-nineteen, face to face
We spent one peaceful week in grace
No television, just time to share
You were the same, with love to spare
You beat your cancer, standing tall
My cancer's terminal; still, you call
Your voice can calm my deepest fears
And hope comes back through happy tears

*Robin, you make my world a brighter place
Your laughter brings a little hope to stay
Your voice can calm the fear I sometimes face
We've got each other's backs, always*

Though states apart, I'll still be near
I'll have your back through every year
This tribute says what words can't say
My sister, you're my hope each day

*Robin, you make my world a brighter place
Your laughter brings a little hope to stay
Your voice can calm the fear I sometimes face
We've got each other's backs, always*

*One laugh from you can light my way
Across the miles, you're here to stay*
