A SONG WRITTEN FOR SHANNON

Guiding Light Through Darkness

Just because

My dad's truck took us off-road on our first date
You spilled liquor all over the truck
We watched the daylight fade and stayed out late
With joy and fear, we laughed about our luck
On four wheels in the woods, you stole my heart
And all the world was racing from the start

> Shannon, you're my perfect match, soulmate
> With you, I know our hearts were made by fate
> You're my reason, light within my heart
> Each day, you guide me through the dark

We'd look for funny town and street names
Chasing the next big adventure
A Loves gas station won't look the same
Each road left something to remember
The day you were diagnosed with cancer
Left me still searching for an answer
Your beautiful smile breaks through the night
Together, we are stronger, holding tight

> Shannon, you're my perfect match, soulmate
> With you, I know our hearts were made by fate
> You're my reason, light within my heart
> Each day, you guide me through the dark

Just because, I needed you to know
How much your light still makes me glow
Our next adventure waits in view
I will take each road beside you

> Shannon, you're my perfect match, soulmate
> With you, I know our hearts were made by fate
> You're my reason, light within my heart
> Each day, you guide me through the dark

Your smile still lights the roads we share
And every road will find us there
