A SONG WRITTEN FOR YVONNE

Enduring Love Through Trials

Just because

1:18 3:49

A good friend brought us face to face
Some twenty-seven years ago
One look, my heart had found its place
Your whole bright spirit made me glow
You speak in smiles without a word
And every silent laugh is heard

> Yvonne, my heart still turns for you
> I thank the love that makes us one
> Whatever comes, I'll see it through
> Together, whatever may come

When breast cancer clouded both my days
You held me through those twice-fought nights
Your steady love broke through the haze
And led me back to morning light
Then came the brain bleed, hard to face
It left you paralysed, yet strong
Yet still, your smile brought warmth and grace
And laughter kept us moving on

> Yvonne, my heart still turns for you
> I thank the love that makes us one
> Whatever comes, I'll see it through
> Together, whatever may come

With every look, my whole heart knows
No words can hold the love I feel
I'll walk beside you where life goes
And keep our promise always real

> Yvonne, my heart still turns for you
> I thank the love that makes us one
> Whatever comes, I'll see it through
> Together, whatever may come

When we're alone, the world grows still
And I will cherish you, I will

Scan to listen to your song