

A SONG WRITTEN FOR SARAH

Love's Unplanned Journey

Birthday

0:59

2:54

Your first message landed by mistake
On Facebook Messenger, it changed my fate
You thought your brother got that line
But it became the start of mine
From that small mistake, our story grew
Twelve years, and I still choose you

*Sarah, my love for you is real
No words can say how much I feel
Forever and ever, my heart stays true
Forever and ever, me and you*

Our blended family fills our home
Five kids have made this love our own
Three grandchildren light up the day
Another one is on the way
Three years ago, a heart attack came
You met that storm, but stayed the same
Your dad and stepdad said goodbye
My stepdad did, and still we try

*Sarah, my love for you is real
No words can say how much I feel
Forever and ever, my heart stays true
Forever and ever, me and you*

Happy forty-fifth birthday, love
May joy keep rising high above
May every wish you hold come true
I'll walk forever close to you

*Sarah, my love for you is real
No words can say how much I feel
Forever and ever, my heart stays true
Forever and ever, me and you*

*I sing « How Do You Want It » for you
Our little joke still carries through*
