

A SONG WRITTEN FOR JAN

Endless Birthday Light

Birthday

1:03

3:05

At Mansfield market, we first crossed paths
Then lunch at Why Not! felt so bright
A chicken Caesar, no chicken, made us laugh

One glass of Merlot warmed the light
From that first day, you stood so near
Your honest heart made everything clear

*Jan, on your birthday, let me say
Thank you for lighting up my way
For twenty-five years, you carried me
Thank you for loving me endlessly*

When my stroke shook the world we knew
You held me with your steady care
Your helping heart still pulled me through
You made the hardest days feel fair
Scarborough's breeze was everywhere
To Harbour Bar, we made our way
Along Marine Drive, light as air
Green jelly with pineapple syrup brightened up the day!

*Jan, on your birthday, let me say
Thank you for lighting up my way
For twenty-five years, you carried me
Thank you for loving me endlessly*

May every birthday bring you light
I'll walk beside you, come what may
May all your days feel warm and bright
Together, we will find our way

*Jan, on your birthday, let me say
Thank you for lighting up my way
For twenty-five years, you carried me
Thank you for loving me endlessly*

*Green jelly, laughter in the air
My heart will always find you there*
