

A SONG WRITTEN FOR CLAYDO

Backwards Boy's Blessing

Birthday

1:10

3:25

At eight, you reached for high-top shoes
Size thirteen around your little feet
Grandpa Sterling's huge box held older shoes
Yet you said, "They fit," so sure and sweet
That inside joke shines through the years
And brings a smile through happy tears

*Claydo, birthday blessings shine today
Your walk with God still lifts me higher
I live for "Love you too, Mom," each day
My Backwards Boy, my heart's desire*

Your sensitive heart meets each new day
With patience and a kindness true
Your uplifting spirit lights the way
In all the gentle things you do
A man of God, you stand in grace
Your faith keeps lifting me above
I see God's blessing in your face
And thank Him for the man I love

*Claydo, birthday blessings shine today
Your walk with God still lifts me higher
I live for "Love you too, Mom," each day
My Backwards Boy, my heart's desire*

On your birthday, this is my prayer
May God be near you everywhere
May He guide your steps with steady light
And keep your faith both strong and bright

*Claydo, birthday blessings shine today
Your walk with God still lifts me higher
I live for "Love you too, Mom," each day
My Backwards Boy, my heart's desire*

No matter how old you may grow
You're my son, my blessing, I know
