

A SONG WRITTEN FOR PETER

My Rock, My Hope

Caring

1:11

3:28

In 2005, our story grew
New Zealand skies were wide and blue
In Italy, our holidays glowed
Your thoughtful care in all you showed
I learned I could rely on you
When heavy thoughts came breaking through

*Peter, you're my rock, I thank you for your care
Your patience quiets every fear
Your understanding meets me there
Thank you for staying so near*

When cancer came, the room went still
You held my hope with patient will
Through chemotherapy's aching days
Radiotherapy lit the haze
That car crash nearly took your breath
I feared the edge so close to death
You loved my children as your own
Best Grandpa they have ever known

*Peter, you're my rock, I thank you for your care
Your patience quiets every fear
Your understanding meets me there
Thank you for staying so near*

May gentler days come into view
For the way you make my courage rise
I'll keep my gratitude for you
And meet tomorrow with clear eyes

*Peter, you're my rock, I thank you for your care
Your patience quiets every fear
Your understanding meets me there
Thank you for staying so near*

Since 2005, your love has grown
I see it in the care you've shown
