

A SONG WRITTEN FOR MAXINE

More Than Words

Just because

1:30

4:25

On the cinder path beside the railway line
You turned, and all the noise fell far away
That first kiss made your hand feel close to mine
I knew my heart had found the words to say
Since then, your love has held me through the night
And made this life feel warm and full of light

*Maxine, I owe you more than words can say
You make this life feel worth each passing day
Your love has been the place I find my way
I love you more than words can say*

My constant heart trouble brought me fear
In hard times, you were always near After fifty years, it lingers still But you have stood beside me with strong will
Your unconditional love remains true
Each time I need you, you will see me through
Your beauty still can take my breath away
You make life worthwhile in every way

*Maxine, I owe you more than words can say
You make this life feel worth each passing day
Your love has been the place I find my way
I love you more than words can say*

I'll spend my days returning what I owe
With all the love my heart can ever show
Whatever comes, I'll hold you close to me
And keep our love as true as it can be

*Maxine, I owe you more than words can say
You make this life feel worth each passing day
Your love has been the place I find my way
I love you more than words can say*

*That first kiss still is shining in my heart
Your love gives every day a brand-new start*
