

A SONG WRITTEN FOR CAROLE

Gentle Light of Love

Birthday

1:06

3:15

At Raoul's birth, I saw you smile
The whole room shone with gentle light
You stayed so calm for quite a while
Your caring made the moment bright
I saw your kindness in your eyes
A love that helps a family rise

*Carole, you're eighty-five today
We hold you close in every way
Your love has brought us safely through
We're grateful, Mum, for all you do*

When Gerald's illness filled the days
You kept our family standing strong
You found a hundred caring ways
And kept us moving right along
My children knew your patient care
And all the time you gave them, too
Both husbands gone, you still were there
With loving ears to hear us through

*Carole, you're eighty-five today
We hold you close in every way
Your love has brought us safely through
We're grateful, Mum, for all you do*

May every day bring softer skies
And give your heart some time to rest
May love surround you, warm and wise
As we all celebrate your best

*Carole, you're eighty-five today
We hold you close in every way
Your love has brought us safely through
We're grateful, Mum, for all you do*

*Your gentle light will always glow
Our grateful hearts will let it show*
