A SONG WRITTEN FOR LISH

Through Loving Eyes

Just because

In the ER waiting room, you turned around
I joked you'd missed a spot along the way
Your cleaning rag came flying, spun me round
That playful answer stayed with me that day
You worked in housekeeping, calm and true
I was a paramedic, drawn to you

> Lish, you're my rock, my life; you make me rise
> Without you, I'd be lost along the way
> Your love has made the man I am today
> Darling, see through my loving eyes

More than twenty years as a paramedic
Complex PTSD shook me deep inside
Each little thing could set me off too quick
Yet you stayed close and never left my side
You bore the storms I never meant to bring
With patient hands, you held my heart so tight
Your love became the calm in everything
And stayed beside me through the longest night

> Lish, you're my rock, my life; you make me rise
> Without you, I'd be lost along the way
> Your love has made the man I am today
> Darling, see through my loving eyes

I'll give you all the care I can
The way you've helped me stand again
My soul mate, see the beauty that I see
You mean the whole wide world to me

> Lish, you're my rock, my life; you make me rise
> Without you, I'd be lost along the way
> Your love has made the man I am today
> Darling, see through my loving eyes

That rag still flies across the waiting room
Your love has pulled me gently from the gloom
