A SONG WRITTEN FOR VALERIE

Eternal Friendship

On LiveJournal, you saw my wish that day
You said one wish of mine could come true
That little moose chased all the gray away
A week went by, and then it came from you
We found each other everywhere online
Eight years, and your friendship still feels like mine

> Valerie, you make my days feel bright
> I care for every part of you
> No goodbye, I mean these words tonight
> Let's choose this friendship through and through

You always speak the truth with gentle care
When I am sensitive, you understand
You never judge the things I choose to share
You let me be myself, just as I am
Before your lighthouse was called home, I wanted that Christmas to be special.
I sent her Sir the Bear from my childhood days
You take him to her resting place
He stays beside you through the quiet haze

> Valerie, you make my days feel bright
> I care for every part of you
> No goodbye, I mean these words tonight
> Let's choose this friendship through and through

I know I said some things I should not say
I hope I never hurt your heart again
Through every change, I choose our friendship's way
I pray we won't be strangers in the end

> Valerie, you make my days feel bright
> I care for every part of you
> No goodbye, I mean these words tonight
> Let's choose this friendship through and through

From one small wish, our hearts found space
Eight years, no one can take your place
