A SONG WRITTEN FOR AMY

Never Letting Go

Just because

Four years in, you laugh over a beer
Your funny side can chase away my fear
On moody days, I still feel your care
Your protective heart is always there
You're gorgeous, with a fire burning bright
And sexy in that soft and steady light

> Amy, you're the one I trust and believe
> You're more special than words could convey
> I love you with each breath that I breathe
> We're never letting go, come what may

My divorce brought a hard time to face
You gave my shaken heart a safer place
You had your hard relationships too
Yet trust grew stronger between us two
We are partners, lovers, best friends
Our bond is where the hard road ends
Four years, side by side, we stand
Still reaching for each other's hand

> Amy, you're the one I trust and believe
> You're more special than words could convey
> I love you with each breath that I breathe
> We're never letting go, come what may

Just because, I want you to know today
How much your caring love has changed my every day
You're my girlfriend, my partner through it all
I trust you when the hard times call
You're my girlfriend, my best friend
Your love has taught my heart to mend
Four years, I still reach for your hand
Never leaving, still side by side we stand

I believe in all that we can be
Because you keep believing in me
No matter what the road may show
We're never, ever letting go

> Amy, you're the one I trust and believe
> You're more special than words could convey
> I love you with each breath that I breathe
> We're never letting go, come what may

Four years of love, still side by side
With trust and love to be our guide

Scan to listen to your song

YOURMELODY
ORIGINAL EDITION · NO. 24860