A SONG WRITTEN FOR SHATIES

My Greatest Blessing

Birthday

1:43 5:02

The day you came into my life, the stars began to shine,
I never knew a love so deep could ever become mine.
Your beauty takes my breath away, your passion lights my soul,
With every gentle touch of yours, you make my spirit whole.
We loved until the break of dawn, beneath the fading night,
Then birds began their morning song, the sun poured golden light.
We stayed there wrapped in tenderness, with nothing left to say,
Just holding on to heaven as the darkness slipped away.

> Shaties, you're the greatest blessing life has given me,
> The love I never dreamed I'd find, the one who sets me free.
> Through every storm, through every tear, you're all I'm dreaming of,
> Happy birthday, my beautiful wife, my everlasting love.

You read the thoughts inside my heart before I understand,
You feel the things I cannot speak and gently take my hand.
So brilliant and compassionate, so strong in all you do,
I see a thousand reasons why my heart belongs to you.
We shared a dream one quiet night, a story strangely true,
I told you how the dream began, the ending came from you.
Through empty pockets, battles fought, and days that tested faith,
Through shadows of oppression, love became our saving grace.

> Shaties, you're the greatest blessing life has given me,
> The love I never dreamed I'd find, the one who sets me free.
> Through every storm, through every tear, you're all I'm dreaming of,
> Happy birthday, my beautiful wife, my everlasting love.

We've stood where life and death collide, yet somehow made it through,
And every time the world turned cold, I found my strength in you.
If I could live a thousand lives, there's one thing I would do,
I'd choose you in each lifetime, and fall in love anew.

> Shaties, you're the greatest blessing heaven sent my way,
> My reason to believe in love, my sunshine every day.
> No words could ever tell you just how much you mean to me,
> Happy birthday, my forever love, for all eternity.

You're the best thing that's ever happened to me, my love, my life, my friend,
And I'll love you, my sweet Shaties, until the very end.
