A SONG WRITTEN FOR SUSAN

Timeless College Love

Just because

On college walks, you laughed into the breeze
A freshman's smile could put my heart at ease
I was a sophomore, chasing every day
At another university far away
Still, every hour together felt so bright
We held a love that made the whole world light

> Susan, my presence brings you peace of mind
> I'll take good care, leave every fear behind
> We'll enjoy the rest of life, just us two
> All the rest with you

Job requirements pulled our paths apart
And other lives went winding on their way
But fifty years could not erase the heart
That held our college happiness each day
Then, as a widow, you came back to me
A widower, I came back to you
After fifty years, we could still see
The old love shining clear and true

> Susan, my presence brings you peace of mind
> I'll take good care, leave every fear behind
> We'll enjoy the rest of life, just us two
> All the rest with you

No need to count the years that slipped away
I only want the peace you bring today
I'll hold your hand when shadows fill the room
And make each quiet moment bloom

> Susan, my presence brings you peace of mind
> I'll take good care, leave every fear behind
> We'll enjoy the rest of life, just us two
> All the rest with you

Your college smile still lights the view
And all the rest begins with you
