A SONG WRITTEN FOR AKEEM HARRELL

Timeless Togetherness

Birthday

Our first trip to New York City
You made each moment feel so pretty
A few nights at the reefs, just us
I found a world inside your trust
Just you and I make memories
Each time you're near, I breathe easy

> Akeem Harrell, you're my soulmate and friend
> No one else, I choose you to the end
> I want to be your wife someday
> Always yours, whatever comes our way

Your patience fills the air with laughter
You're an amazing, loving father
On Valentine's Day, you cooked with care
Your love was waiting everywhere
When my family spoke against your name
You held us close through all that pain
You surprised me at the hotel then
On my birthday, I felt special again

> Akeem Harrell, you're my soulmate and friend
> No one else, I choose you to the end
> I want to be your wife someday
> Always yours, whatever comes our way

Happy birthday, I choose you still
With you, my future feels so real
Whatever comes, I'll take your hand
Together, side by side we stand

> Akeem Harrell, you're my soulmate and friend
> No one else, I choose you to the end
> I want to be your wife someday
> Always yours, whatever comes our way

Just you and I, our memories glow
My heart is where you choose to go
