A SONG WRITTEN FOR JACKIE

The Woman God Gave Me

Tribute

At that place, we felt we were meant for each other.
Your smile at my little jokes made me fall in love with you.
Our first kiss still holds that memory of love.
Just as it did thirty one years ago, it remains alive in my heart.
In your sweet eyes, I saw a friend, a loyal, faithful, and wise woman.
A loyal friend, so faithful and wise

> Jackie, you're the woman God gave me
> I would marry you all over again, with all my heart
> I'd make you feel more loved and safe with me
> My everything, the woman of my youthfulness

We faced adversities, illness, hardship, and loss.
At times, our marriage suffered the consequences.
Yet you kept fighting for our love.
Your honest heart always chose to trust God regarding our love.
Such a good and true mother and wife.
A woman of God you overcame every difficulty.
Whenever I need you, you are there
You are there with wisdom

> Jackie, you're the woman God gave me
> I would marry you all over again, with all my heart
> I'd make you feel more loved and safe with me
> My everything, the woman of my youthfulness

If we met again, I'd choose you then
I'd marry you again and again
I'd do things better, more each day
Bringing a happy smile to your face every single day.

> Jackie, you're the woman God gave me
> I would marry you all over again, with all my heart
> I'd make you feel more loved and safe with me
> My everything, the woman of my youthfulness

That first kiss still shines like a star
My everything, just as you are
